

The Meridian High Definition Music System

The Meridian High Definition Music System realises for the first time the full potential of digital sound recording. No other audio system carries the digital signal from a compact disc to the heart of the loudspeaker. The benefits are clear; no distortion or compromise; easy instant remote control; and error free adjustment to match your room acoustic. Soon, all sources will be digital. Today, the Meridian High Definition Music System shows the way.

Meridian electronics products provide a choice of CD players, FM radio tuners, control units and amplifiers to manage all the analogue, video and digital sources you may need. All Meridian products can be controlled from one handset in one room or around the house.

The elegant and intelligent Meridian DSP5000 loudspeaker displays what is happening at all times and even includes an automatic memory to match its performance to each source and each room.

Only Meridian can bring you this level of sound quality and convenience today. Ask your dealer to demonstrate the Meridian High Definition Music system or call us for details.
